Change happens one step at a time.
Small steps make a big difference.
Walking up stairs burns nearly 5 times more calories than riding an elevator.
No waiting one door over.
Burn calories, not kilowatts.